ge of juvenile to 16

A TIMES NEWS NETWORK

The Kerala High Court has called for a on the age of juveniles under criminal serving that the time has come for the ture to consider reducing it from 18 to rs in view of the changing nature of and the maturity shown by children. observation by Justice A. rudeen has triggered a wider debate, tate Women and Child Development ter Bindhu Krishna saying the stion deserves consideration and Kerala High Court judge Kamal Pasha upporting a review of the existing age minister said laws needed to be fine- with the passage of time and that the observation was an issue that could ed into.

nal Pasha said the time had come ke the changes suggested by the Court, pointing out that children had erable awareness of the world by the 16.

is high time for the legislatures to ler appropriate amendments in the es which deal with juveniles and en in conflict with law to reduce the 16, taking note of the present trend ng sufficient maturity by children they reach the age of 16," Justice rudeen observed.

court was hearing a petition seeking ntability from excise officials and d bars for serving liquor to persons 23 years, in violation of Sections 15A B of the Kerala Abkari Act.

plea cited the recent fatal accident lumbassery involving a Mini Cooper lly driven by a 19-year-old under the ce of alcohol.

laimed that the accused, aged 19, en served liquor at multiple bars in alam before the crash.

erving that even persons below 18 en involved in fatal road accidents onsuming alcohol, the court said the n required detailed consideration.

lso noted concerns over the easy availability of liquor to young people despite statutory restrictions.

The court directed the Excise Commissioner to file a statement detailing the steps taken to enforce the prohibition on serving alcohol to persons below 23.

The case has been posted to November 24. The petition, filed by journalist Vinod Vikraman Pillai, also alleged a nexus between excise officials and bar establishments and sought an independent vigilance probe, electronic age verification systems at bars and action against establishments violating the law.

The High Court's observation does not change the existing legal definition of a child, which remains a person below 18 years under the Juvenile Justice Act.

Any change would require legislative action, and for that, the debate has begun.

nearly five hours of questioning in connection with an FIR over a controversial social media post targeting Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar and the Gujarati community.

"The investigating officers are doing their job. Whenever the officers called me, I went and never avoided facing the questioning. I did not run away anywhere. I am being called in various false cases. I am going on the orders of the Calcutta High Court. I will go if called in the future too," Banerjee told reporters outside the police station.
